Silent Years

THE MESSAGE OF THE SILENT YEARS

When we come to the life of the Lord Jesus Christ, there is a yawning chasm, a hiatus between His birth and the beginning of His public ministry at the age of 30. We have only a few scraps of His biography, devoid of factual continuity.

We're told that nature abhors a vacuum, and likewise humans have rushed in to try to fill this divine pause with tradition, folklore, and fable. Here imagination has run riot and fancy has been substituted for facts. One church teaches that the boy Jesus performed miracles. For example, they say that when He played with other little boys in Egypt who were making clay pigeons, He touched the clay and the pigeons flew away. We know that such traditions are untrue, for when our Lord went over the hill from His hometown of Nazareth to attend a wedding in Cana of Galilee, He performed His first miracle by turning water into wine. Of this the Gospel writer states:

This beginning of signs Jesus did in Cana of Galilee, and manifested His glory; and His disciples believed in Him.

–John 2:11

Since we must dismiss tradition, can we know anything of these silent years? When Scripture is examined closely, we discover that the boyhood of our Lord has been adequately covered by the divine reporter, the Holy Spirit. He has told us a great deal about this period. “But,” you say, “we haven’t much to go on.” That is true. Yet we have three scraps of evidence to examine. Let’s take these three capsules of facts, open them, and examine the contents very carefully. First, we’ll look at a physician’s chart, then we’ll listen to the public comment, and finally we’ll read the prophet’s copy. That is all we have, yet it covers this period and covers it adequately.

A PHYSICIAN'S CHART

The physician is Dr. Luke, called by Paul “the beloved physician” (Colossians 4:14)—a wonderful title for this man. Luke, a medical doctor, used more medical terms in his scriptural record than did Hippocrates, the founder of medicine, in his written records. Dr. Luke is the obstetrician who recorded the birth of Christ. His is the longest record of the virgin birth, and properly so. I am not impressed when a so-called theologian in a famous seminary says the virgin birth is a biological impossibility. Such a statement reveals his ignorance of biology and his ignorance of impossibilities. Dr. Luke, a medical doctor of the first century, gives us a most comprehensive account.

Not only is he the obstetrician, Dr. Luke is the pediatrician, for he gives us the only account of the boy Jesus. Again, this is properly so. After the birth of the Lord Jesus Christ, the shepherds went back to their flocks on the hillside; the wise men disappeared into the mysterious East; the angels returned to heaven and shut the door for almost 30 years; and Joseph took the young child with His mother down into Egypt. How long did they stay there? I do not know. I only know that Matthew tells us they did return:

Now when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, saying, "Arise, take the young Child and His mother, and go to the land of Israel, for those who sought the young Child's life are dead." Then he arose, took the young Child and His mother, and came into the land of Israel. But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning over Judea instead of his father Herod, he was afraid to go there. And being warned by God in a dream, he turned aside into the region of Galilee. And he came and dwelt in a city called Nazareth, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophets, "He shall be called a Nazarene." –Matthew 2:19-23

Matthew gives us the information that when they came out of Egypt they went up to Nazareth, at which point he drops the record until Christ began His public ministry at 30 years of age. The other Gospel writers do the same thing—with the exception of Dr. Luke.

THE CHILD

From the moment they come out of the land of Egypt, Dr. Luke takes the case. He is the pediatrician. First let us look at the period of childhood—from birth to adolescence. Dr. Luke lets us look first at his medical chart where the first 12 years are covered by this statement:

And the Child grew and became strong in spirit, filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon Him –Luke 2:40

Then from 12 years of age through His teens, here is the statement that is made:

And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and men. –Luke 2:52

The word for “grew” in verse 40 is not the same word as “increased” in verse 52. “Grew” is a word Dr. Luke uses very carefully. It’s a doctor’s word that indicates physical growth. “The Child grew and became strong in spirit” is growth without any sense of responsibility except obedience to authority.

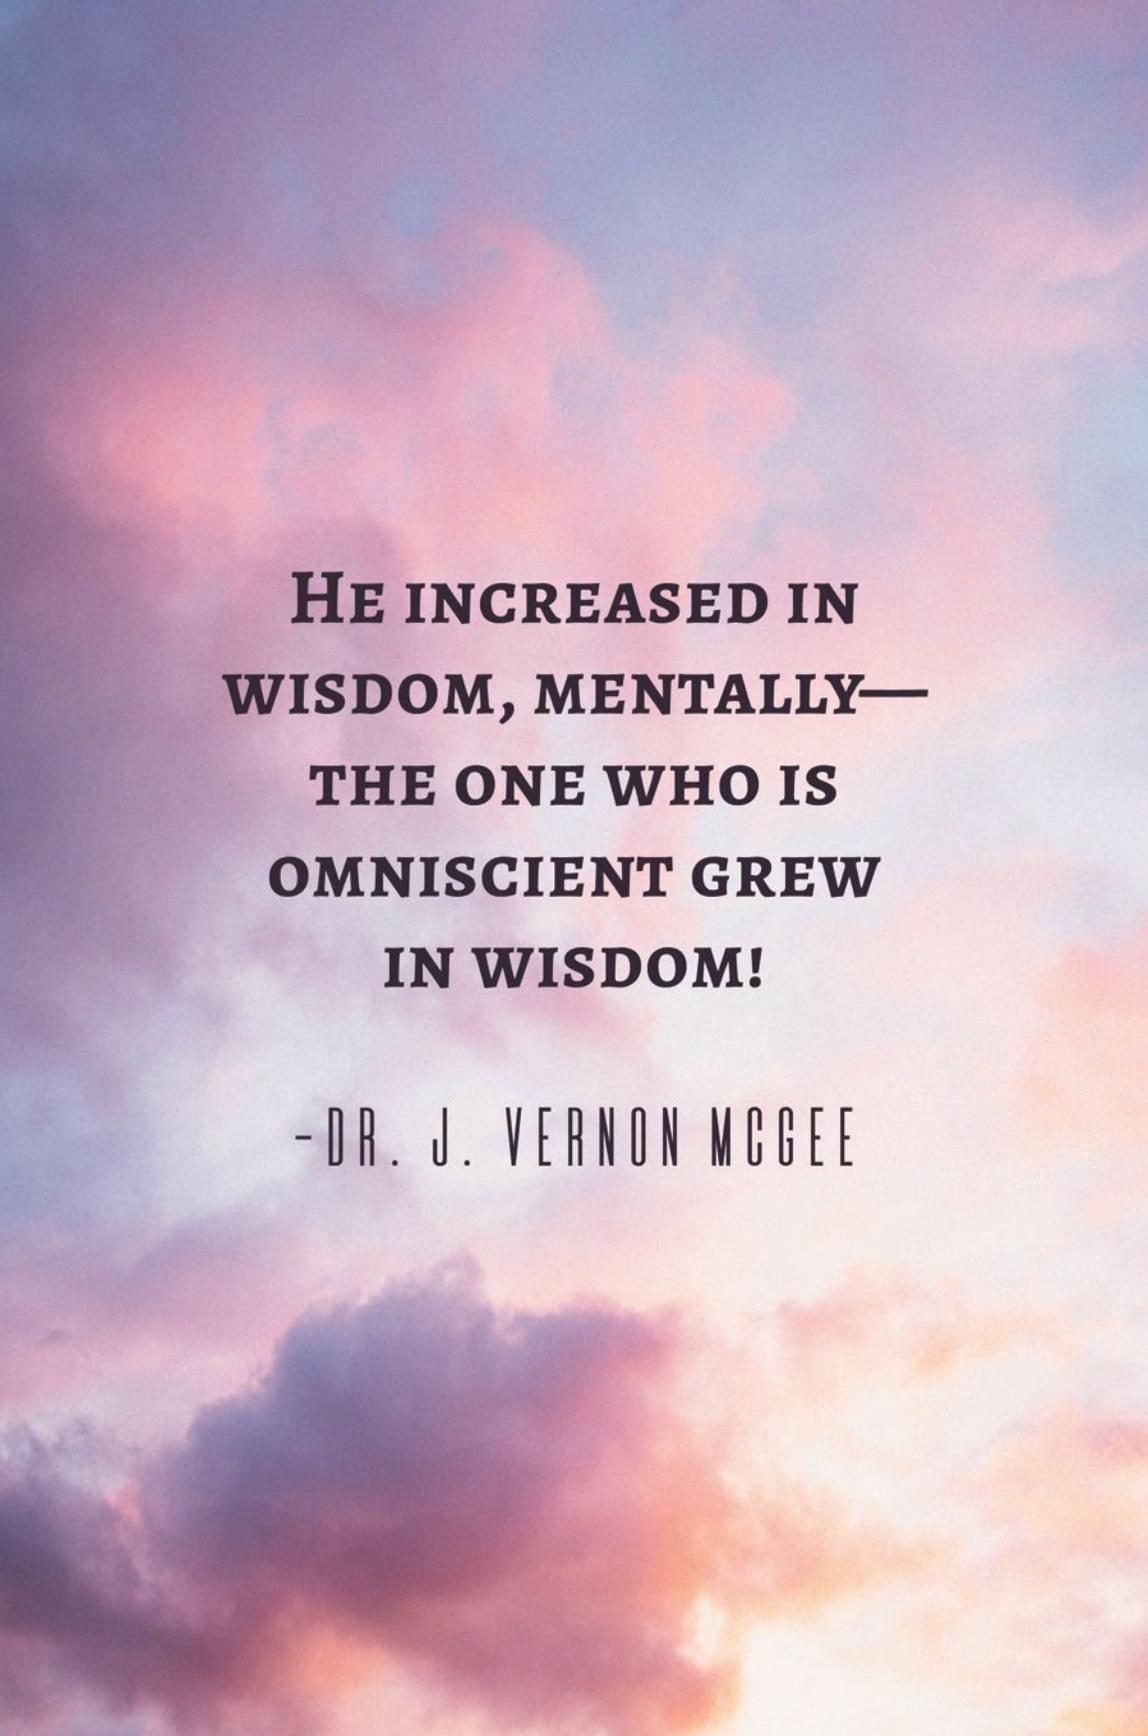

One cause of what is known as juvenile delinquency in our day can be traced back to the parental attitude in the home before the child is 12 years of age. A mother of a six-year-old said to me, "I always call my Willie in and explain to him the reason for everything." What explanation does a six-year-old need? He is to be taught obedience to authority. When he learns obedience to authority until he is 12 years of age, he will not have trouble in his teens. This is child psychology according to God's book—not very popular, but mighty good. During those first 12 years, Jesus just grew. Everything was not explained to Him. His mother said, "You are to run on this errand." She did not have to sit down and give Him a lecture on why He should run the errand. The "why" was that He was to obey His parents! Learning obedience in the home ensures obedience to God and other authority when a young person leaves his home.

A mother was reading a Bible story to her little boy. It was a story about Jesus. At the conclusion, she did what a mother invariably will do—she said, "Now why can't you be good like the little boy Jesus?" The six-year-old had the answer. He said, "Because He's God and I'm just your boy."

Though Jesus was God, He grew those first 12 years as any child should grow—without responsibility except obedience to authority.

THE ADOLESCENT

When Jesus was 12, Dr. Luke thought it was proper to tell us one occurrence in His life that marks a change from childhood to adolescence. It is an isolated incident, and we do not want to miss it, for it bridges the gap from His birth to the time He began His public ministry.

HE INCREASED IN WISDOM, MENTALLY—
THE ONE WHO IS OMNISCIENT GREW IN WISDOM!

-DR. J. VERNON MCGEE

The Law said that three times a year the males were to go to Jerusalem. The incident given to us by Dr. Luke was during the Passover feast when Jesus was 12. They traveled to Jerusalem, as was their custom, together with a great company. It was an informal sort of going, and I do not think there was anything out of the ordinary in the fact that on the return trip they did not miss Jesus until they had gone a day's journey. But suddenly they did miss Him. You can imagine the thoughts that must have passed through Mary's mind. They traced their way back to Jerusalem and found Him in a most unusual place—in the temple, with the doctors of the Law, the scribes, and the Pharisees around Him, marveling at the questions He could ask and the answers He could give.

But all this was not impressive to Mary. She barged right in, as a mother would.

So when they saw Him, they were amazed; and His mother said to Him, "Son, why have You done this to us? Look, Your father and I have sought You anxiously." –Luke 2:48

"Son" is not the word used for "child" in verse 40, nor is it the word used in verse 52. It is a term of endearment—her mother-word for Him. She called Him son in a way that no one else could have called Him.

Now note this: "Look, Your father and I have sought You anxiously." Father? Yes. By virtue of the fact that Joseph was the husband of Mary, he was Jesus' father. Probably that little boy up to the time He was 12 years old called Joseph "father." However, Jesus was no longer a child, He had reached adolescence.

And He said to them, "Why did you seek Me? Did you not know that I must be about My Father's business?" –Luke 2:49

In other words, Jesus said, "Mother, you should have known. It wasn't necessary to look for me." Up to 12 years of age, when Joseph said, "Go and get that two-by-four," little Jesus ran and got the two-by-four. But He is 12 now; He has reached the age of adolescence, the age when He has a will and mind of His own. He says now, "I must be about my Father's business." Up to this point, He had been taught the Word of God, but I am not sure if He ever had been asked to make any kind of decision. But at 12 years old He said in effect, "I am now ready to assume my responsibility. From now on I am about my Father's business." The will of Jesus is now bent to the will of God. What will He do?

When I was 14 years old, I used to set traps along the Pennington River in southern Oklahoma. It used to be a good place to trap. We would catch possum and sometimes skunk, too. Each morning I used to run the traps. One Saturday morning, after I had made the rounds, I decided that since I was 14 and in business for myself (I had just sold some skins for $1.30), there was no use of my getting home to eat breakfast with the family. When I finally came home, my dad was waiting for me. He said, "Son, when breakfast is put on the table by your mother, you are to be here." I said, "Yes, sir." He was very emphatic. He added, "When you get old enough to make your own living, and you don't eat here at my table or sleep in my bed, then you will make your own decisions. Until then, you will do what I tell you to do." He was a regular old meanie—wasn't he? Yet I attribute the firmness of my father to be one of the factors that kept me out of jail.

Now we see Jesus at the time of adolescence. What will He do? Leave home? Go out on His own? Is He going to start running a gang? No. He will do His Father's business, His Father's will. What is His Father's will? We read on:

Then He went down with them and came to Nazareth, and was subject to them ... –Luke 2:51

As long as He is a teenager, He is subject to His parents. Such is His Father's will. Modern psychology has gotten us into terrible difficulty by running counter to this principle.

Then we come again to Dr. Luke's notation in his physician's chart that covered the period from the beginning of adolescence to manhood:

And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and men. –Luke 2:52

He increased in wisdom, mentally—the one who is omniscient grew in wisdom! He increased in stature, physically, growing as any other boy grows. He increased in favor, in grace, with God and men. That is spiritual growth. In all three areas of His total personality as a human being He grew normally from the time He was 12 years old until He came to manhood. He grew mentally, physically, and spiritually during that period.

My friend, a child who does not grow in all three areas will surely have trouble growing later on. Many letters come to my desk from folk newly saved. They ask questions that to you would sound silly. But they are not silly; they are baby questions that should have been answered in their teens. Someone failed to give them the Scriptures when they were young.

I wish we could visit that carpenter shop in Nazareth. I see a little boy around there helping His dad. I see Him at 16, 17, 18. Then at some time during His young years Joseph probably died, and I see Jesus assuming the responsibility for which He had been prepared.

PUBLIC COMMENT

Let us listen to public comment now. While this is not a man-on-the-street survey, we do have the public reaction to Jesus. The public always makes an estimation of a man. It may be faulty, but it is a general impression, usually determined by emotion rather than fact.

The opinion of Jesus is seen in the reaction of His hometown when He went into the synagogue of Nazareth

So He came to Nazareth, where He had been brought up. And as His custom was, He went into the synagogue on the Sabbath day, and stood up to read. And He was handed the book of the prophet Isaiah. And when He had opened the book, He found the place where it was written: "The Spirit of the LORD is upon Me, because He has anointed Me to preach the gospel to the poor; He has sent Me to heal the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed; to proclaim the acceptable year of the LORD." Then He closed the book, and gave it back to the attendant and sat down. And the eyes of all who were in the synagogue were fixed on Him. And He began to say to them, "Today this Scripture is fulfilled in your hearing." So all bore witness to Him, and marveled at the gracious words which proceeded out of His mouth. And they said, "Is this not Joseph's son?" –Luke 4:16-22

JOSEPH'S BOY

His hometown was not large; everybody knew Him. As He grew up, they had recognized in Him only a normal boy—that is all. When He came to manhood and began His ministry, He came back to their synagogue and read to them the Scriptures. They were amazed and said, "Why, this is Joseph's boy!" That's not all. He not only read to them that day but, oh, how He spoke to them. Resentment rose in their hearts.

So all those in the synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath, and rose up and thrust Him out of the city; and they led Him to the brow of the hill on which their city was built, that they might throw Him down over the cliff. Then passing through the midst of them, He went His way. –Luke 4:28-30

His hometown mobbed Him at the beginning of His ministry. If it had been possible, they would have killed Him. Why? Well, they said, "We know Him. This is Joseph's boy, and listen to Him talk!"

At this time He was 30, and He was perfectly human.

ONLY A CARPENTER

Will you notice that when our Lord gave those wonderful mystery parables recorded in Matthew, the reaction of the public was the same: "Is this not the carpenter's son?" (Matthew 13:55). And when Mark was recording it, he got another remark: "Is this not the carpenter ...?" (Mark 6:3). When Jesus walked out at 30 years of age and began His ministry, the comment was not, "He is a theologian" or "He is a scribe" or "He is a great religious leader." They said, "He is a carpenter!"

YOU HAVE NOT BEEN

-DR. J. VERNON MCGEE

Jesus was a carpenter for 30 years. He knew what hard work was. The politician speaks of the calloused hands of toil. I am weary of politicians who are millionaires. He who has been born with a silver spoon in his mouth, whose soft hands never have been soiled by earning one day's living, does not know my problem. When a head of government talks of sacrifice, I wonder how many gowns his wife will give up. I wonder if he knows what it is to live in southern Oklahoma and be poor, to come out in the summertime and look down a cotton row filled with crab grass, cockleburs, and Johnsongrass in the corners. I wonder if he has hoed down the cotton rows when the afternoon sun seemed to stop for hours. I wonder if he has stood with a cotton sack in his hand instead of a hoe and looked down those same old cotton rows a few months later when they were white. It is cold after the first frost; those burs stick in a cold hand. I hate picking cotton worse than anything in the world, and I had to pick a lot of it. A wealthy politician could not possibly understand me, but Jesus knows how I feel. He worked, too. Those hands that were nailed to the cross were calloused. He was a working man.

Oh, to look in at Nazareth. You say He is a great teacher. Yes. But during those silent years He was a good carpenter, too. I rejoice in His manhood. He is my Lord and my God, but He was a laboring man.

We have looked now at a physician's chart, and we have heard the public's comment. Now let us look at the prophet's copy.

THE PROPHET'S COPY

The prophet is David, and his copy is Psalm 69. Some say that David is writing of his own experience in this psalm. He is, yet it is not only the experience of David, for he could never outline all that is said here. This is a Messianic Psalm. In the New Testament it's quoted 11 times as referring to Christ. It's all about Him. In fact, this psalm is quoted more than any other, with the exception of Psalm 22, the great psalm of the crucifixion.

As I read Psalm 69, I have the feeling that it relives the earthly experience of the Lord Jesus. As He hung on the cross, His suffering intensified by the beating sun and the jeering and ridicule being flung in His face, His mind (perhaps in delirium) went back over His entire life.

OVERWHELMED

We begin with Him way up north at Nazareth. We hear the heart sob of a little boy, a teenager, a young man:

Save me, O God! For the waters have come up to my neck. I sink in deep mire, where there is no standing; I have come into deep waters, where the floods overflow me. I am weary with my crying; my throat is dry; my eyes fail while I wait for my God.

–Psalm 69:1-3

REPROACHED

If you will let those silent years speak to you, it will be a roar in your ears. Listen to Him:

Because for Your sake I have borne reproach; shame has covered my face. –Psalm 69:7

That is quoted as referring only to the Lord Jesus.

ALIENATED

I have become a stranger to my brothers, and an alien to my mother's children. –Psalm 69:8

Notice that it was not His father's but His mother's children. You see, Mary had other children. Perhaps one day her boys, Judas and Joses, said to her, "Mother, we heard somebody down the street talking, and they said Jesus isn't really our brother. They said nobody knows who His father is"

Someone has said that God made the country, man made the city, but the devil made the small town. I believe that. If you have lived in a small town, you know that a little town can be cruel. A lovely girl came to me who had been engaged to one of the finest boys in the town where I was pastor. She said, "Dr. McGee, his father and mother have broken off our engagement. What shall I do?" Do you know what was the matter? She did not know who her father was. I said to her, "I wish I had spoken to you before. A little town like this will not accept you. I advise you to go to a city and start all over again where you are not known." She did as I suggested and met a fine boy there whom she eventually married.

Nazareth was a little town that would not accept the Lord Jesus because it would not believe the fact that He was the Son of God.

RIDICULED

I also made sackcloth my garment; I became a byword to them.

–Psalm 69:11

This one who was the stalwart carpenter of Nazareth made sackcloth His garment and was ridiculed to the point of becoming a proverb.

Those who sit in the gate speak against me, and I am the song of the drunkards. –Psalm 69:12

Those who were sitting in the gate were the high officials of the town, the judges. Thus we see that the best people in Nazareth also spoke against Him.

Down on skid row they made up dirty little ditties and sang them about Him and His mother. I'm sure you can imagine what name they used for Him—it's still in the vocabulary of the present hour. That is what they called Him in Nazareth. My friend, this is the reason I cannot follow the crowd that denies the virgin birth, for to do so would be to join the Nazareth crowd in name-calling.

But as for me, my prayer is to You, O LORD You know my reproach, my shame, and my dishonor; my adversaries are all before You. Reproach has broken my heart, and I am full of heaviness; I looked for someone to take pity, but there was none; and for comforters, but I found none. –Psalm 69:13, 19, 20

CRUCIFIED

They also gave me gall for my food, and for my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink. ... For they persecute the ones You have struck, and talk of the grief of those You have wounded.

–Psalm 69:21, 26

ON OUR BEHALF

My friend, you have no notion what He endured for 30 years in order that you might have a clear title as a legitimate child of God. I want to be very careful at this point. None of that suffering paid for our sin. Even when He ascended the cross, during those first three hours, He was not paying for the sins of the world—He was suffering at the hands of men. It was not until God put the blanket of darkness down upon that cross for the last three hours that His soul was made an offering for sin. Those last three hours no man can penetrate.

*But none of the ransomed ever knew
How deep were the waters crossed;
Nor how dark was the night
That the Lord passed through Ere He found His sheep that was lost.*

—The Ninety and Nine” by Elizabeth C. Clephane

During those last three hours, He suffered as no one has ever suffered. At that time, He paid the penalty for your sin and mine. Yet for 30 years He suffered down here.

You have not been through anything that He has not been through. He can sympathize with you in every trial, in every testing.

Therefore, in all things He had to be made like His brethren, that He might be a merciful and faithful High Priest in things pertaining to God, to make propitiation for the sins of the people. For in that He Himself has suffered, being tempted, He is able to aid those who are tempted. —Hebrews 2:17, 18

He not only perfectly understands you, but He loves you, and He stands ready to be your Savior. This one who is very God and very man was “despised and rejected by men” (Isaiah 53:3).

In those silent years, I see a young man growing normally in Nazareth; I hear the sound of a carpenter’s hammer; I hear the sob of His soul. He is my Savior. He is my God. Is He yours?

A gravel path leads through an olive grove. The trees are lush and green, with some showing signs of being pruned. The path is made of light-colored gravel and is bordered by low stone walls. The lighting is warm, suggesting late afternoon or early morning. The text is overlaid on the path and trees.

THE LORD JESUS NOT ONLY
perfectly understands you,

BUT HE LOVES YOU,
AND HE STANDS READY TO BE YOUR SAVIOR.
